

Ophthalmology Insourcing Services

Flexible service models designed to reduce patient wait times & improve patient outcomes

ID Medical Clinical Services (IDMCS) is a CQC-regulated provider already helping NHS trusts manage their patients' healthcare pathways and improve patient outcomes. We deliver millions of pounds worth of savings against NHS tariffs, and we can help your organisation do the same.

Is your Ophthalmology department struggling to cope with increasing pressures to meet patient demand?

With an ever-increasing and aging population, the demand for healthcare continues to rise rapidly, with over 620,000 patients currently awaiting Ophthalmic treatment across the UK. It's clear that departments are under extreme pressure to meet 18-week targets and provide patients with the necessary care they need.

Our tailor-made insourcing solutions significantly reduce RTT waiting times without compromising on quality and safety. And our specialist teams work with you to understand your service challenges to build a bespoke delivery model for achieving your targets and operational needs.
