

Respiratory Medicine Insourcing Clinics

Dramatically reduce patient wait times without compromising on quality and safety

ID Medical Clinical Services (IDMCS) is a CQC-regulated provider already helping NHS trusts manage their patients' healthcare pathways and improve patient outcomes. We deliver millions of pounds worth of savings against NHS tariffs, and we can help your organisation do the same.

The national RTT statistics state that at the start of April 2023, over 190,000 people were waiting for NHS respiratory treatment. Respiratory diseases currently affect one in five people and clinics across the country are struggling to meet 18-week targets and provide the necessary care that patients need.

Our insourcing and outsourcing solutions significantly reduce RTT waiting times without compromising on quality and safety. And our specialist teams work with you to understand your service challenges to build a bespoke delivery model for achieving your targets and operational needs.

Tailored to you, organised by us

ID Medical Clinical Services are extremely flexible and our highly skilled teams of Respiratory specialists can support with all aspects of the patient pathway. This includes outpatients and the provision of a full range of pulmonary physiology studies.

Our consultants will ensure that appropriate investigations are organised, and patients will be kept up to date and given test results in a timely manner. We will also deal with queries from patients and primary care physicians, to avoid unnecessary burden on your local team.

We have a team of lung physiologists and clinical scientists who are able to support with sleep study clinics, and dependent on your local set up and equipment, we can help with:

- Overnight oximetry
- Full polysomnography
- Multichannel sleep studies
- CPAP initiation visits/clinics

At ID Medical Clinical Services, we fully appreciate the importance of building a team that is committed to working together to deliver exemplary patient care, which is why we have unrivalled capacity to supply regular, regional teams.
